Goodwill Welcomes Four New Members to Board of Directors

Boston (July 9, 2009) – Four new members have recently joined the Board of Directors at Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries.

The four board members are:

- Kevin Bottomley is the president and CEO of Danversbank. Bottomley previously served on the Goodwill board from 1998 to 2001.
- Edward Cassidy is a director at AEW Capital Management, LP, a real estate investment advisor to pension funds. Cassidy manages the company's architecture and engineering group.
- Stephanie Lovell is the vice president and general counsel for Boston Medical Center. Prior to that, Lovell served as the First Assistant Attorney General in the Massachusetts Office of the Attorney General.
- Linda Thompson is vice president of human resources and service excellence for New England Baptist Hospital. Thompson previously performed a similar role at Deaconess Glover Hospital.

"We are pleased to welcome this array of talent to our board," said Joanne K. Hilferty, president and CEO of Goodwill. "Each of these board members brings something unique and special to Goodwill's mission of providing job training for individuals with barriers to employment."

ABOUT MORGAN MEMORIAL GOODWILL INDUSTRIES

For more than a century, Goodwill has provided job training programs and partnered with the business community to provide meaningful work opportunities for individuals with disabilities and other barriers to self-sufficiency. The eight Goodwill Stores and one outlet store in eastern and central Massachusetts provide on-the-job training opportunities for Goodwill participants and support Goodwill's programs. In addition, Goodwill operates Boston Career Link, a one-stop career center, which offers universal access to a broad range of services for job seekers, individuals who are looking to advance or change careers, and employers seeking good job candidates. Goodwill also offers programs that foster academic achievement and career aspirations among urban youth. Goodwill annually serves more than 9,000 people. www.goodwillmass.org
