Goodwill Opens New Attended Donation Center in Waltham

Center located at 215 Waverley Oaks Road

BOSTON (January 17, 2025) – Beginning Friday, January 24, residents of Waltham and surrounding communities will have a local and convenient way to donate their clothing, household goods, and other items to Morgan Memorial Goodwill Industries.

“Goodwill is a community-based nonprofit organization. Its mission is to help individuals with barriers to self-sufficiency to achieve independence and dignity through work,” said Joanne K. Hilferty, President and CEO of Goodwill. “Community donations support our retail social enterprise, which helps individuals in our job training and career programs find jobs and makes low cost, quality goods available to individuals and families looking to stretch their dollars.”

The Waltham donation center will be open and staffed seven days a week, from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and tax receipts will be available. The address is 215 Waverly Oaks Road in the American Legion parking lot.

Locally, Goodwill collects more than 25 million pounds of donations every year. Goodwill accepts clothing, textiles, shoes, accessories, books, small working appliances, household items, small furniture, antiques, collectibles, and more. Visit www.goodwillmass.org/what-to-donate/ for a full list of acceptable items. Goodwill asks residents to donate items that are of good quality and to donate during operating hours.
